MR. CALHOUN'S SPEECH. -On the 4th inst., Mr. Calhoun delivered himself of a speech of about one hour and a half in length, in .support of his resolutions, and in opposition to the war. Entertaining the opinion that we do, we cannot for a moment believe that the withdrawal of our troops to a certain line would facilitate the object Mr. C aims atpeace. We are now in possession of a very senger on the Fanny from Vera Cruz, and the for publication, should you think it worth a large number of the principal fortresses of the enemy, and to retreat to a line would, in our opinon, not only protract the war, but it and evidently prevent us from reaping any her advantages which might be derived on a vigorous prosecution of the war, until s not tell us where he would run the line, nor of Jalapa. We have no inclination to discuss the subject, but we do not see, from all the lights before us, that if the line-policy should be adopted, how we are to obtain peace. at all-at all events for years to come. If Mexico will not treat for peace under present again as the one of the Encarnacion prisoners circumstances, it is not likely she will appreciate the withdrawal of our troops as an act of magnanimous forbearance towards her .-Flaughty, selfish, and obstinate, she would hundred more men to the battalion, in anticimost probably construe our magnanimity into cowardice and inability to carry on the war What, then, should we gain by the line policy? Literally nothing. But if Mexico saw fit to carry on a border warfare, she would have it in her power to recruit her scattered resources, and bring them into action along the whole line of operations, and thus compel this government to maintain a standing army of some 50,000 or 100,000 troops. What, then, would be the result, in case she should see fit to pursue the border warfare? Why, according to our thinking, we would be compelled to re-conquer the very places we now tence of Mexico blotted out from amongst the list of nations forever. The people, from one make them feel the power of our mighty magnanimity we have heretofore extended to mistaken as to the propriety of his line policy. should Congress see fit to adopt it. The great demand for this most important work, (of which thousands are sold.) has compelled the issue of another edition. It is intended especially for the married, as it discloses in portant secrets which should be known to them particularly. Here every female can discover the causes, symptoms, and the most efficient remedies, and most certain mode of cure, in every complaint to which her sex is subject.

It is an important question to the married why it is that we behold so many married females sickconsider it. But the inconsistencies of this 4. the tobacco rent; 5. the rent of stamped pawith discoveries in medical and physiological science, which meets that question.
